

Emergency Travel Assistance Program

Dear Traveler,

EIIA prioritizes the health and wellbeing of their institutions, especially when on educational trips and assignments. That is why they have partnered with Healix to provide comprehensive medical and security support during your travels.

Healix is a leading emergency assistance and risk management provider, offering a wide range of services designed to keep you safe and healthy wherever your journey takes you and your family. With Healix's integrated solutions, you will have a dependable partner by your side, ensuring your peace of mind 24/7/365.

In addition, members can access a consolidated resource of medical and travel safety information online through <https://tow.healix.com/login>.

When should you use the service?

Pre-Trip: Know Before You Go

- Access the EIIA Travel Oracle webpage or download the mobile app to access real-time alerts and travel safety information for over 200 countries worldwide.
- If you have any health or security concerns before your trip, do not hesitate to contact the EIIA Global Assistance Helpline (contact information provided on the next page). Our team of experts can offer pre-trip advice and guidance.

During Your Trip

- Whether your concerns are minor or more serious, your initial point of contact should always be the EIIA Global Assistance Helpline (contact information available on the next page).
- For medical concerns, our operations team will help and, when appropriate, help you locate approved clinics or hospitals or even arrange for a doctor to visit you. They can also provide support and facilitate replacements for cases involving prescriptions or medications as needed.
- For travel concerns, our case handlers can assist with issues like lost or stolen documents, money, or baggage, as well as access to legal assistance.
- Should you encounter security-related concerns, our team of security consultants is on standby to offer well-informed guidance and advice.

Crisis Management

Emergency Response Teams are on standby to assist with any crisis and will coordinate all necessary resources to ensure expedient evacuations and repatriations.
